

Please note: In most cases, you are not responsible to pay any bill for treatment related to your Workers' Compensation claim. However, you may become responsible for medical bills related to your Workers' Compensation claim if: (1) you fail to prosecute the claim; or (2) the claim is disallowed by the Workers' Compensation Board; or (3) you settle your claim with the employer and you agree to pay for future medical bills.

If a provider refuses to treat you, please notify the Medical Director's Office in writing via:
